FENBY VS. WOOD.

A fairly good sized audience greeted the appearance of Ernest Fenby of Shepherd, and Malcolm Wood, of Clare, at their wrestling match last Friday evening in Central Hall. It was the second appearance of Fenby and all were looking for a good contest, as Wood was more of the calibre of Fenby than Reed was.

Laughable preliminaries were put on.
"Nick" Worden issued a challenge to Neil Connell, who accepted, and they wrestled three bouts. Of all the actions, these were the most comical. Between bouts, Neil smoked a very large stogie, to regain his wind. "Nick" was declared winner, best two out of three falls.

Allyn Somers put on the gloves with Irwin Gough, and some lively times were shown. Of all the actions, Allyn showed that he was the better man for his weight. As it was he gave as good as he got.

Then Bert Jackson and Bert Steinburg exhibited to the crowd a sample of very slow and uninteresting wrestling. No exciting moments were presented. It became so tiresome that Fenby called a halt, and the main bout was announced.

On comparing the two, one was first struck with the difference in weight, Fenby being from 15 to 20 pounds heavier than his opponent. After ten minutes of good wrestling Fenby finally secured the first fall. Wood fought gamely, and for the last three minutes was within two inches of the floor.

The second fall was secured in 61 minutes. Fenby's superior weight and reach gave him a good advantage.
During the bout Bruce Lothian acted as referee and E. A. Carney as timekeeper. In all the entertainment provided was worth the price of admission.

AN ENJOYABLE EVENING.

The Menerey Corners Oystermen gave Mrs. Lucian Fogelsonger a birthday party at her home on Monday evening and a very pleasant time was enjoyed in games and amusement. Sixteen sat down to a hearty lunch.

After supper one of the number who was quite handy at pocket picking stole Wm. Secord's plug of chewing tobacco and hid it in the wood pile. Will was in a terrible plight. The company feeling for him in his distress took up a collection for the purpose of buying another plug for him. Instead of finding a coin of the realm in the hat it was loaded down with an assortment of apple cores and other rubbish. William finally found his tobacco and was himself again.

During the evening Mrs. Fogelsonger was made the recipient of a beautiful reed rocker as a remembrance of the occasion. On leaving the friends all wished Mr. and Mrs. Fogelsonger many such happy occasions.

Dr. Warner Cornell, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, will be at The Paisley, Yale, the second Friday of each month. His next visit will be Jan. 11.

HOLIDAY MERCHANDISE IS MAKING AN EXCELLENT DISPLAY.

Our Business Men Right Up to the Mark With Their Xmas Goods.

A walk up and down the main street of Yale this week and a peep into the windows shows us that the merchants are thoroughly awake and alive to the occasion. The occasion being of course the glad Christmas holidays and the displays made are for the benefit of Christmas shoppers.

Everybody shops during the holiday time. It is inevitable, and our merchants are here to meet the wants of the people. They dress and trim their show windows with holly and evergreens and other tasteful decorations and place among these their most attractive wares. A great deal of time and labor is expended in this way, but it certainly pays, for who does not delight in standing before a pretty shop window, and always when one sees something wanted. And so a double purpose is served. A pleasure is given the beholder, he buys what he likes
